DEFEAT IS ADMITTED

Refusal of Workers to Obey
Walkout Call Crushes
Strike MoveBy Michael Chingio
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, July 16—(INS)—The Italian government won a smashing victory today through collapse of a Communist effort to unseat the cabinet of Premier Alcide De Gasperi by means of a general strike.

Leftist leaders of the General Labor Confederation, acknowledging defeat in their attempt to topple the De Gasperi regime, ordered union members back to work at noon.

Refusal of many workers to obey the call for a general walkout designed to paralyze the nation's industry crushed the strike move from the very start.

The Communist chiefs were forced to bow to the pressure of Christian Democrat, Republican and Rightist Socialist labor leaders who earlier had directed their adherents to return to their jobs.

The final break in the walkout resulting from the shooting Wednesday of Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti came early this morning, after a midnight meeting of the Labor Confederation executive committee.

A delegation headed by Giuseppe Di Vittorio, Communist secretary general of the Confederation, was sent to a conference with government officials at which the union's capitulation was announced.

The Council of Ministers had continued in emergency session until this time, ready to act swiftly in the face of events which it was feared might develop into civil war.

The Council earlier had adopted special measures to protect minority groups which previously announced their intention to go back to their jobs at starting time.

Interior Minister Mario Scelba was informed by the Labor Confederation that it was setting noon as the hour for work resumption because of difficulties in transmitting orders to all groups.

Former Rotary Governor
Is Speaker at Club Here

The Bristol Rotary Club held its weekly meeting at the Elks home, yesterday and had as guest speaker, Samuel Shanaman, former governor of Rotary District 179. Shanaman spoke here at the local Rotary 11 years ago while in the capacity of governor.

Shanaman spoke about the recent Rotary convention held in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. He told members present of his trip down to South America by ship, and of the welcome he received when the ship reached port. He and his fellow travelers were greeted by two bands at the pier, and several young Brazilians were present to greet the Americans when they landed.

The ex-governor also spoke of labor conditions in Brazil. The people there are either very rich or very poor. Laborers earn an average of about $1 a day. He said at first the people were reluctant to associate with the Americans, but when they learned that the Americans were there to try to better international relationships, they could not do enough for them. "Americans were looked upon with curiosity."

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

A prominent Bucks County Playhouse actor and two New Hope friends, narrowly missed being buried in hay, Tuesday, in the center of Doylestown.

When Sidney Blackmer, now playing in "Years Ago," at the Bucks County Playhouse, stepped out of an automobile in front of the office of a physician with whom he attended college, something unusual happened.

Blackmer looked back and the car in which he was brought to Doylestown, had disappeared. It was buried in tons and tons of baled hay.

The buried car belonged to Walter VanderShufts, of New Hope, who together with Captain Van-Wormer Walsh, of New Hope, had escorted actor Blackmer to Doylestown to visit his friend.

The hay belonged to Merton Rinkler, of Mechanicsville, whose truck wobbled and became unbalanced long enough to topple over and block State street traffic for some time as the hundreds of bales of hay were reloaded.

The top of VanderShufts' automobile was somewhat damaged and it was nearly 20 minutes before the car was reached after a wrecking crew started to remove the hay.

Two Autos Are Damaged;
Sedan Hits Parked Coupe

Two automobiles sustained damage at 10 o'clock last evening on Green Lane, a Hudson coupe said to have been struck by a Pontiac sedan.

The coupe, which had been parked in the vicinity of 251 Green Lane, by Mrs. William Patterson, Fleetwing Estates, who was attending a meeting in that area, was struck by a sedan operated by Lester Johnson, Jr., Jefferson avenue.

The right front fender of the Johnson car was dented considerably, and it was necessary to pry it up from where it rested on the curb, the left rear fender of the Patterson machine had several rips in same, and the tail light was smashed by the impact.

Neither Johnson, nor his companions, were injured. The Patterson car was empty at the time, Bristol police were notified.

MAY ALERT DRAFT
BOARDS ANY TIMECol. Henry M. Gross Says
Members May Be Notified
In a Day or So

TO HAVE 175 BOARDS

By Jack Ward
(INS Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, July 16—Pennsylvania's peacetime draft boards may be alerted within several days.

Col. Henry M. Gross, director of the state office of selective service records, reported that volunteer draft board members will be notified "within the next day or so," to begin organization.

He explained that the state will have 175 local boards comprised of three to five members who served in the same capacity during World War II. During hostilities there were 422 boards in the state.

Notification of the prospective individual boards has been held up since passage of the draft act to permit organization to go forward on a blanket basis, according to Gross.

The OSSR already has received its first shipment of registration forms and cards, he said.

Registration tentatively has been fixed to begin August 16. Actual inductions under the new draft set-up will await a proclamation by President Truman.

Approximately 750,000 Pennsylvanians between the ages 18 through 25, are expected to be registered and 30,000 inducted in the first year of the draft.

Gross pointed out that preparations will be pushed "as far as possible." He explained that organization can go forward "up to the point" of placing the draft in actual operation.

He explained that the OSSR was preparing a list of draft board members for submission to Governor James H. Duff for his approval. Efforts also are being made to obtain clerks and office space for local boards, he added.

Gross denied any knowledge of who Duff will appoint as State Selective Service Director.

Gross and Pittsburgh financier, Richard K. Mellon, both former state draft directors, have been mentioned as probable choices for the position. Mellon recently was appointed a brigadier general in the Pennsylvania National Guard and assigned to the staff, which is taking an important role in completing preparations for the draft.

TAPS SOUNDED FOR LAST OF THE 'FAMOUS FIVE'

TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS AGO, a cameraman made this photo in Kansas City, Mo., of the five famous military leaders of World War I when they attended the first American Legion convention in the United States. One by one, they have passed into history. With the death of Gen. John J. Pershing at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, "finis" is written to their careers. They are (l. to r.): Gen. Jacques, Belgium, and Diaz, Italy; Marshal Foch, France; Gen. Pershing and Adm. Beatty, England.

RECORDS SHOW CAUSE

(This is the tenth of a series of 10 articles on street and highway safety, written by nationally recognized accident prevention specialists and published by this newspaper in the interests of greater traffic safety.)

By Harold R. Danford
(Supervisor of Education, National Conservation Bureau)

"I'll show him who has the right of way!" "I'll pass that slowpoke if it's the last thing I do!"

Those are "famous last words" of the highway—short cuts to injury and death. They are symptoms of bad driving attitudes which have their roots in other causes. Often they stem from frustration, irritation, emotional upsets—a calling-down by the boss, a quarrel with the wife or husband, a business deal gone wrong—or a thousand and one other things which have little to do with the motorist's immediate driving problem. Human nature? Maybe, but if there is a single underlying factor to blame for the vast majority of our highway deaths and injuries, safety specialists believe it is a faulty driving attitude on the part of motorists.

Traffic records gathered over a period of many years show that driver violations or unsafe practices contributed to 84 per cent of all accidents. Of these, excessive speed, intoxication and driving on the wrong side of the road continue to be named as the three leading causes, accounting for 40 per cent. But they are only the final physical causes observed by witnesses of the accidents, the last link in a chain of events which probably began with an emotional upset the driver was unable to forget when he got behind the wheel, or even farther back, with a basically wrong outlook on the privilege and responsibilities of driving a car.

NEWPORTVILLE, July 16—A resident of England, who with her husband had arrived here for a six-month visit, died yesterday in Abington Hospital.

MORRISVILLE REJECTS HIGHWAY DEPT. OFFERCouncilmen Would Like Bridge Street Repaved, But Don't Wish Parking Ban

NICE TAX COLLECTION

MORRISVILLE, July 16—The offer of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways to repave Bridge street, from Pennsylvania to Delmor Avenue, has been rejected by Morrisville borough council.

Councilmen expressed their feelings this week that they would like to have the work carried out, but that they are not ready to ban parking on one side of Bridge street or to change the overhead traffic signal at Pennsylvania avenue, as the state authorities list in their conditions.

A representative of the department a few days ago contacted Harry M. Lair, president of council, with the proposal that the state pave Bridge street from Pennsylvania avenue to Delmor avenue, if the borough will eliminate parking on one side of the street entirely, and substitute four corner post traffic lights for the present overhead light at the intersection of Bridge street and Pennsylvania avenue.

The street, in the business section of the borough, has been repaved hundreds of times by the state highway department because it was a state highway. Macadam was placed a number of years ago in the middle of the street, where the old trolley car rails were located, and bad weather makes the patching job by the state almost impossible to keep in condition because of the heavy traffic.

Members of the Council were unanimous in agreement that the State requirements should not be accepted. Councilmen were satisfied that traffic was being handled nicely on Bridge street under present parking regulations. They felt also that the State's decision ruling

Italian General Confederation Faces Major Split

Rome: The Communist-dominated Italian General Confederation of Labor faced a major split this morning despite its decision to end its general strike. Communist chieftain Palmiro Togliatti, gravely wounded Wednesday in an assassination attempt which led to the general strike call, meanwhile was reported "not improved." Labor unions allied with Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Christian Democratic Party were reported to have decided to break away completely from the Confederation. Italy's central labor organization. Informed sources said that an official announcement of the split in Confederation ranks was expected momentarily.

Expect Statement on Use of British Bases
in Blockade Trouble

London: Britain's Air Ministry announced today that a statement will be made in Washington this afternoon concerning the use of British bases by American Air Force planes to aid in the air lift supplying the beleaguered Berlin. Beyond this the Air Ministry declined to comment on reports that United States Superfortresses are being flown to Britain this week-end. It was pointed out, however, that Americans are welcome to use existing British facilities to maintain the aerial lifeline to the former German capital. Intense diplomatic activities continued in connection with the worsening Berlin situation.

Russian Patrol Seizes Another Japanese Vessel

Tokyo: The intelligence section of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo received reports today that a Russian patrol vessel had seized a Japanese fishing boat, presumably in the waters of the Soviet-held Kurile Islands. A headquarters spokesman who said "we are not getting excited about it," pointed out that the Russians have seized and returned many Japanese boats since Japan's surrender. He added that the Americans also have taken into custody and returned Soviet vessels which stray into American-controlled waters.

Dewey and Leaders
Discuss Reply to TrumanBy Leo W. O'Brien
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PAWLING, N. H., July 16—(INS)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey planned to discuss with Republican leaders today the timing and form of a reply to President Truman's attack upon the record of the 80th Congress.

The GOP Presidential nominee at the same time is canvassing sentiment among Congressional leaders concerning the President's call for a special session of Congress July 26.

Dewey has delayed answering the special session question until he confers with Sen. Robert A. Taft, chairman of the Republican policy committee, who is en route to Quebec by automobile for a vacation.

It was believed that Dewey is waiting to talk not only with Taft, but with Senator Arthur Vandenberg, House Speaker Joseph Martin and House Majority Leader Charles J. Halleck.

One problem facing the GOP nominee and his advisors is the policy to be followed by the Republicans at the special session. President Truman said it would give the GOP an opportunity to prove the good faith of their platform promises on inflation and housing.

The Republicans refuse to admit that Truman has put them "on the spot."

They contend that the President will have plenty of trouble at the special session with members of his own party, and that such a session will furnish an opportunity for a reopening of the bitter fight over civil rights which split the Democratic Convention wide open and led to a southern revolt against the Truman nomination.

Some of the sharpest Truman thrusts at the Republican record were aimed at legislation in which Taft had a major hand, notably the lifting of price controls. Taft and Dewey talked at length in New York City Tuesday night. Their four-hour conversation dealt with the record of the 80th Congress and a Republican legislative program for the 81st Congress.

Not A Lively Place

The average person hunts the coolest places these humid days—but the couple who spent an afternoon this week in Bristol cemetery had the choice spot, other person's opinions to the contrary.

The two were stretched out on the cool grass in the shade of a tall tree, the man reading a newspaper, the woman a book. They were away from the crowds (at least the living ones), and had the advantage of a fine breeze which other Bristolians had no hint of.

"NUTS," SAID THE SERGEANT

In the air safety control center, high in the tower at Tempelhof Airdrome, Berlin, a significant little drama is being enacted. An American sergeant, a British corporal, a French noncom and a Russian captain are watching the minute-by-minute arrivals of U. S. transports bringing in food.
The flights have become steadily more frequent since the Russians cut off all road and rail imports from western Germany.

The American sergeant, says a press dispatch, is methodically but rapidly jotting down flight data on yellow cards that he puts in a rack on the wall. The data tells about takeoff and arrival times, altitudes in flight and other details the U. S. Air Force considers necessary for safety and efficiency. The other noncoms make brief notes for the information of their commands.

But look, what is the Russian captain doing? He seems to be oblivious to what's going on around him, though he is supposed to be doing the same sort of thing as the other guys on duty.
He is reading a book, with a dark scowl on his face. He is unhappy.
Formerly he was given a courtesy copy of every card about a flight.
But now so many planes are coming in that the U. S. sergeant has no time to make out duplicates for his colleagues.

The Russian captain cannot be bothered with copying all the dope off a card every few minutes. He doesn't even bother to make current notes on flights of Russian bombers in the air. That he could and should do. He just cannot keep up with the American arrivals and takeoffs, so he doesn't try. He's disgusted.

Now for the pay-off. The Russian says he ought to have more information on the transports, because Marshal Sokolovsky is greatly concerned over the safety of American fliers.

Then comes the remark not for the Russian's ears:
"Nuts," says the American sergeant.

No doubt the biggest disappointment of the year to Stalin is the discovery that Americans do not scare easily.

Prizes are being offered by Kansas for additional verses to the state song, "Home on the Range," but it is not revealed whether the natives have learned to sing the original ones.

Not much difficulty was experi-the 149 head offered, 165 were sold.

These included only shoates, which

Desire To Pass Others
Leads To Accidents

Driving a car is a combination of two types of action. The first are the automatic acts, such as shifting gears, avoiding obstacles, and the like. The second, and more important, are the acts involving problems and decisions, such as, "Should I pass that car?" "Do I have the right of way?" The decisions that a motorist makes determine the kind of driver he is.

In turn, the driver's ability to make wise decisions on short notice depends to a considerable degree on the kind of person he is. We often describe drivers as reckless, foolhardy, chance-takers, discourteous "show-offs," "day dreamers," however, if driving a car is thought of not as a right, but as a privilege, and if traffic authorities and the public will cooperate in demanding high standards of driving skill and maintaining thorough law enforcement.

Not only are faulty attitudes hard to correct, but they are also contagious; they are often communicated to children by their parents.
Best hope for future drivers lies in the programs of driver education and behind-the-wheel training being inaugurated in increasing numbers in the nation's schools. These courses not only teach the rules of the road, the mechanical skills of driving a car, and a knowledge of proper car maintenance, they also inculcate those vitally important habits of courtesy and emotional control which are the best means of saving life.

Sleepy Drivers Credited With 2 Auto Accidents

PLUMSTEADVILLE, July 16—Sleepy drivers caused two accidents in this area yesterday and Wednesday, one near Souderton and the other near here.

John S. Clemens, 46, of Mainland, Montgomery county, was injured Wednesday on Stump road, a half mile west of Plumsteadville, when his son, Frank Clair Clemens, 18, dozed off at the steering wheel of his truck, belonging to the Hatfield Packing Company.

The truck crashed into a pole and the elder Clemens received an arm injury. He was taken to Doylestown Emergency Hospital in a taxicab, for treatment. A trooper from the Doylestown sub-station of State Police investigated.

One person was injured yesterday morning when an automobile operated by Warren K. Wisler, 25, Lansdale, crashed into the rear of a truck-trailer-trailer operated by Dominic K. Forte, 23, Tamaqua.

Both vehicles were proceeding in the same direction along Route 309, a mile east of Souderton according to the investigating officer from the Quakertown sub-station of State Police. Wisler fell asleep at the wheel of his car and ran into the larger vehicle.

Wisler was treated at the Grand View Hospital, Sellersville, for lacerations of the forehead.

FALLSINGTON

The place of residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shirkoff has been changed from New Hope to the Tiar apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Darrah have been sojourning at Beach Haven, N. J.

Hospitalized for a time, Mrs. Richard Gade has returned from the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia.

SUNDAY DINNER

Suggestions

ONE of the secrets of successful chicken cookery, says the A & P Service for Home-Makers, is to plan the cooking according to the bird's age, tenderness and size.

Older, less tender birds from three and one-half pounds should be braised, simmered and stewed for fine eating. Young birds from one and one-half to four pounds are suitable for barbecuing, frying, broiling, roasting and currying.

The Service for Home-Makers suggests curried young chicken in noodle ring for your Sunday dinner. Broil a young chicken until the meat is tender and the stock rich. While the bird is cooking, brown one-fourth cup of minced green pepper in four tablespoons of butter or margarine. Blend in three tablespoons of flour, one teaspoon of curry powder and one-half teaspoon of salt. Then add one cup of milk and one cup of the chicken stock, and cook over a low heat, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Stir in two cups of diced chicken meat, one teaspoon of onion juice and one-fourth cup of diced raw celery.

The noodle ring: Cook one 8-oz. package of noodles, rinse and drain. Stir in two tablespoons of melted butter or margarine, one teaspoon of salt, one-fourth teaspoon of pepper, one-half cup of rich milk, and three egg yolks, well beaten. Fold into this mixture three stiffly-beaten egg whites. Pour into a greased one and one-half quart ring mold, set mold in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) for 30 minutes, or until set. Turn out onto a hot platter and fill center with the hot curried chicken. This recipe will serve six.

Begin the meal with fruit cocktail, followed by the chicken ring, a tossed green salad, buttered lima beans, and for dessert ice cream and coffee.

Another Convention Moves In On Phila.

PHILADELPHIA, July 16—(INS)

A welcome hull settled over convention-embattled Philadelphia today—but it's only temporary.

Tomorrow the advance guard for the Third Party national Convention troops into town to prepare for the "new party" sessions opening next Friday in Convention Hall.

The Third Party arrangements committee is moving right into the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel quarters vacated by the Democrats who had taken them over from the Republicans.

The Wallace Third Party convention will be the fourth major convocation in Philadelphia this summer, the others being the Democratic and Republican national parleys and the national gathering of the Elks.

There'll be one marked difference in the Wallace convention as compared with the Democrats and GOP conclaves.

All you needed to get into Convention Hall for the major party candidates' acceptance speeches was an admission ticket—free, if you could get your hands on one.

But the Wallace acceptance speech will be delivered with a "cover charge" at Shibe Park next Saturday night, July 24th. It will cost Wallace "followers" from 60

"Rump" Convention to Get Under Way at Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 16—(INS)—Mississippi and Alabama, convention-bolting delegates, will reach Birmingham today for the "rump" convention which may see the birth of a new fourth party. Apparently all the plans for the anti-Truman, anti-civil rights meeting, which opens tomorrow, are carried by the men who walked out of the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia.

States' rights spokesmen, who have made the arrangements for the meeting, were vague as to just how many will attend, what states will be represented and what course of action will be taken.

90—BUT FIT TO FIGHT

MALDEN, Mass., July 16 (INS)—A 90-year-old veteran of World War I, who was refused admission in World War II only because he was over age, has been inducted into Malden Post 69, of the American Legion. Nicholas G. Carroll, a veteran of 26 years Navy service, attempted to get back into active service shortly after Pearl Harbor. Surprising enough, he passed the physical examination. Navy officials were forced to turn him down because of his age—then 86.

KEEP UP-TO-DATE ON THE VARIETY OF NEW FABRICS ON MARKET

By Flora-May Sargol, Home Economics Representative.

When shoppers ask for crepe, gabardine, or jersey, they are not telling clerks exactly what they want.

When women look at materials in the stores, they are familiar with such terms as taffeta, chiffon, satin, crepe, velvet, tweed and flannel. Not long ago, these terms meant the use of a particular fiber. Flannel was wool unless otherwise named, satin or taffeta suggested silk, and seer-sucker led buyers to expect cotton. But with the increased use of the man-made fibers, rayon and nylon, and with the increased possibilities of mixed fibers, buyers should keep up to date on new materials.

Most materials are made in one of three kinds of weaves: plain, twill or satin. The plain weave is usually used for cotton, muslin, gingham or voile. Wool fabrics also are made in a plain weave. Some of the rayon plain weaves are taffeta and printed rayons. Dress linen is usually made in a plain weave. If the threads used in a twill weave are twisted, the material is called a crepe.

Fabric of a twill weave shows a diagonal ridge. Gabardine is a familiar example and is woven of cotton, wool or rayon.

A satin weave fabric has a shiny surface. It is a luxury material made of silk, rayon or nylon.

Another type of material familiar to those who sew is the knitted fabric called jersey. This is made of cotton, wool, rayon or silk.

Because of the several weaves and many fiber possibilities, women often become confused when buying fabrics. For this reason, consumers are asking for more informative labels on the fabrics they buy. The federal trade commission in Washington, has made the rules for marking rayon fabrics. The rules state:

1. Rayon must be labeled with the family name—rayon.
2. Rayon must be labeled with the word telling which kind of rayon—examples are viscose rayon, acetate rayon and cuprammonium rayon, better known by its brand name, Bemberg. This, however, is not required.

3. The trade mark of the manufacturer or finisher may also be used, but is not required; duPont rayon, Benberg rayon and Celanese rayon are examples. The type used in the two words must be of the same size.

4. Unless the material is made of a mixture, the words silk, linen, or wool cannot be used.

5. The label must not carry the name of the construction or weave alone, but must have the word rayon added as in the terms rayon crepe or rayon taffeta.

6. In a material of mixed fibers, the label must tell all the fibers used, named in order of the amounts by weight. Labeling will state, as this example does: "This material is made of rayon, wool and silk." It is desirable but not required to state amounts as, "50 per cent rayon, 20 per cent wool, and 20 per cent silk."

7. It is not fair trade practice to advertise rayon fabric under the name of a silk firm or a silk department in a store without labeling it rayon.

GOODWILL BACK IN WIN COLUMN AFTER 3 LOSSES

After losing three straight, Goodwill Hose hopped back into the win column of the Bristol Suburban League last evening by trouncing the Lewis Lodge of Elks, 14-8, on the Third Ward field.

The hosemen made most of their runs early in the contest but the Elks were threatening throughout and hit the ball harder than they did all season.

Thirty hits were made in the tilt with the fire-eaters having 16 and Lewis Lodge, 14.

"Hughie" Deans was the winning hurler, he retiring in the seventh inning in favor of McDevitt. Clarence Anderson and Hardy Johnson hurled for Lewis Lodge with the former being charged with the defeat.

Joe Cahill paced the hitters of the 'ray with four out of five. Three hits were made by the following: Schandyer, Bell, and Elmer.

SECOND WARD WINS OVER JEFFERSON A. C.

Last night on the Memorial Park field, the Second Ward A. C. defeated the Jefferson A. C., 9-1, in a Bristol Twilight League Softball match.

The Second Ward team scored three runs in the first frame and then coasted on to an easy victory as Jefferson was handicapped by the loss of several of their regulars.

Frank Sagolia was on the mound for Second Ward and limited the Jefferson team to four hits. Second Ward collected ten hits off the combined pitching of Jim Capecci and Lou Palumbo. Big Jim Sottile led the Second Ward attack with a double and two singles. Sam Sottile and Nick Palumbo had two hits apiece.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELKERSON

The winners . . . top honors in the senior division of the annual open fishing contest sponsored by the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association, held at Silver Lake last Sunday, went to a Philadelphiaan, Walter Wolff. His winning entry was a 13-ounce catfish.

Carl Morris, 38 Fleetwing Road, Bristol, topped all entries in the junior division with a 11-ounce catfish.

An estimated 200 anglers participated in the contest. Just two bass were taken all day, one being an 8-incher, and the second a 10-inch largemouth, which weighed 11 ounces.

Salt water trip . . . (attention Doc Webb) . . . you can catch fluke sea bass, herring, porgies, shark, perch and weakies while top fishing with a dead line. The Kilcoynes (Mr. and Mrs. Lisa) and I did just that yesterday when we fished the bay out of Tuckerton aboard Captain Dickinson's "Moby Dick."

Our total catch numbered forty-five. All were taken on live shrimp (bags) while top fishing with extremely light tackle. Lisa had his usual fragile looking rod, equipped with No. 24 sewing thread. His wife also had a delicate rig, and I used my fresh water bait casting rod.

Although our trip was primarily for weakfish (we caught ten nice ones) we also caught the species mentioned above. The bay was choppy and the water riled, but it was a glorious day to be fishing.

Who caught the most fish? Why Mrs. Kilcoyne, of course!

Not many, but all big . . . that sums up a week-end trip to the Poconos last Saturday and Sunday made by Ralph Katchine, John Johnson and I.

We paid a premium to fish the Brodheads Creek early Saturday evening for trout. Everything was ideal, except the trout weren't working.

Sunday we fished the Delaware between Milford, Pa., and Port Jervis, N. Y. We kept two exceptionally fine smallmouth bass, John was top man with six fish, returning five of them to the water.

Conservation progress . . . the 80th Congress, which adjourned just about a month ago, made a splendid conservation record in the year and a half it was in session, according to the National Wildlife Federation. Not only did it enact many constructive measures for the conservation of soil, plants, waters and wildlife, but it showed good judgment in failing to give consideration to bills inimical to the conservation movement. There were, of course, some bills that were left to die in committee or on the calendars which conservationists had hoped would be enacted, but there are assurances that these will be given quick consideration when the 81st Congress convenes next January.

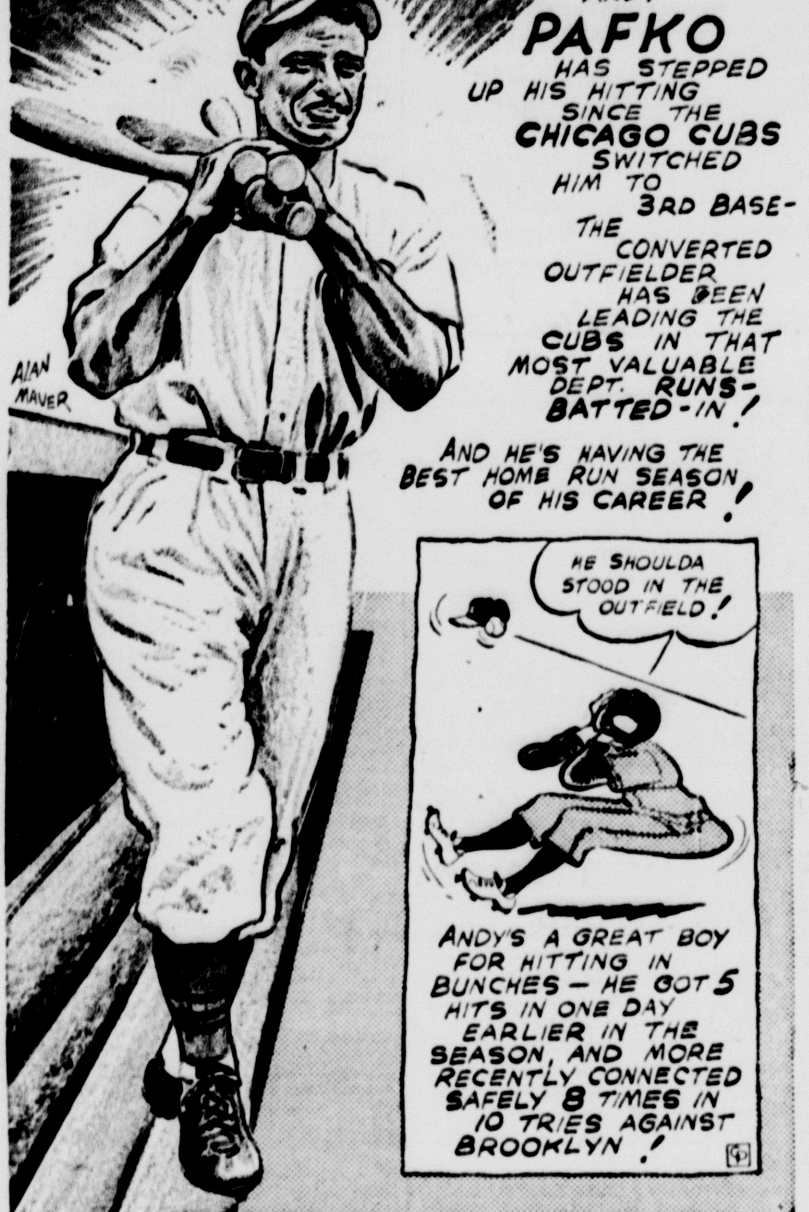

The Fish and Wildlife Service has received in appropriations well over 21 million dollars, by far the greatest fund it has ever had in its history.

Crime wave . . . from the May, 1948 issue of the Pennsylvania Game News, official publication of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, comes this interesting observation on game violations: "The crime wave in hunting and fishing that plagued the Nation in 1917 left in its wake here in Pennsylvania a regrettable modern-day record in number of violations and penalties imposed. More than 4,000 prosecutions for Game Law violations were made last year by officers of the Game Commission, many of them involving deliberate, flagrant attempts on the part of the defendants to cheat the Commonwealth and their fellow hunters, out of an already limited game supply. Many others entailed careless or ignorant acts which endangered the safety of the persons involved, or worse still, the safety and lives of innocent bystanders. As partial compensation to the irreparable loss in game supply and safe hunting conditions, more than $80,000 was collected by the Commission from violators. . . ."

Shoot . . . this Sunday, July 18th, the Edgely Rod & Gun Club will conduct an open blunderbuss target shoot over its trap beginning at 1 p. m. Everyone is welcome and invited to participate.

LANGHORNE GOES STEP CLOSER TO FOURTH PLACE

Langhorne Legion climbed a step closer to fourth place in the Bristol Suburban loop with a rousing 12-3 win over the Fifth Ward Sporting Club last evening on Memorial Park diamond.

The Legionnaires rapped out 11 hits in their triumph and gave their hurler, Paul Roby, fine support. Of the eleven hits made by the winners, three went to "Inky" Schneider, who had a double and a pair of singles.

In the fourth inning, "Army" Fizzano rapped out a home run to center field with Schneider and Keen on base to account for three Langhorne runs. Joe Lukens, Langhorne, hit a home run with one on in the third.

Roby allowed Fifth Ward six hits four of which were divided between Danny Pico and Gene Stockton. Tony Piazza and "Bill" Stockton did the pitching for Langhorne.

JUNIOR LEGION TO GET ACID TEST

The Bristol Junior Legion baseball team will receive its acid test of the Bucks County League this evening and tomorrow afternoon as it meets the leaders of the up-county teams.

This evening, the Bristol boys travel to Doylestown to meet the Junior Legion team of the county seat. In their last meeting, Doylestown shut out the locals.

Tomorrow afternoon, on the Third

Ward field, Bristol will play the unbeaten Parakie team. This game was called off on four different occasions because of rain.

Bristol needs both victories to stay in the league race, while a double defeat will put it out of the running, as it has already lost two games. The Delamens have won five tilts.

Manager Vito Della will most likely use "Dick" Harmon and "Johnny" Pindar to do his hurling, with "Bill" MacSherry behind the plate.

The game tomorrow afternoon begins at 2:30 o'clock.
